

She told the hospital authorities her mother lives at 1674 Twelfth avenue, Huntington, W. Va.

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative should always be the first treatment given. If your little one is out-of-sorts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look! Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that it's little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Pull directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

HUSBAND KILLED WIFE, SHOT BOARDER, AND THEN COMMITTED SUICIDE.

Wife Sought Refuge in the Room, in Which All Three Bodies Were Found.

(Associated Press Telegram.) Akron O., Jan. 6.—Charles W. Hyslop, 28, a railroad employee, early today shot and killed his wife, shot Joseph Schrader, a boarder at the same house, and then turned the revolver on himself, dying instantly. Schrader is not expected to live.

Boarders at the house were unable to assign any cause for the shooting. Hyslop is said to have fired several shots at his wife in their own room, none taking effect. She then sought refuge in Schrader's room, but was pursued by her husband and the fatal shooting followed. Boarders found all three bodies lying on the floor of the room.

Police this morning learned that Hyslop and his family came to Akron from Pittsburg about one week ago. Hyslop was hunting work here. Joseph Schrader, the man who was coming in the house with the Hyslopes and who was shot when he attempted to disarm the husband, did not know the family. He had not talked with the family since they had moved into the house where he was rooming.

Akron police are seeking relatives of the two victims, said to be living in Pittsburg.

PAINE'S STOVE, MADE BY BENJ. FRANKLIN RETURNED TO HOUSE.

(Associated Press Telegram.) New York, Jan. 6.—The stove that was presented by Benjamin Franklin to Thomas Paine, writer and patriot, was restored yesterday to Paine's former house, now the headquarters of the Huguenot in north avenue, New Rochelle. Walter T. Bell, of Woodbury, Conn., who purchased the stove thirty-nine years ago from the former owner of the Paine house, sold it to the Huguenot association. The stove was one of the first made by Franklin. The crudely made sections are fitted together in grooves instead of with nuts, bolts or rivets. It is now in the room once used by Paine as his study.

WOMEN CALL ON PRESIDENT ABOUT EQUAL SUFFRAGE.

(Associated Press Telegram.) Washington, Jan. 6.—To obtain President Wilson's support of a constitutional amendment for nation-wide woman suffrage was the object of a call today at the White House of nearly one hundred Democratic women, many of them voters, whom the President had arranged to see. The amendment will be voted on in the house January 12 and the call on the president marks the opening of the final effort of the suffragists at the present session of congress.

The new vessels cost $3,000,000. It was also announced that the Johnson line of Swedish motor ships would begin a service between Europe and north Pacific ports via the Panama canal May 1.

OUCH! BACKACHE! RUB LUMBAGO OR STIFFNESS AWAY

When your back is sore and lame of lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacob's Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right on your aching back, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the pain right out and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica, backache or rheumatism so promptly. It never disappoints.

INSURANCE PAID BENEFICIARIES OF SOLDIERS KILLED

(Correspondence Associated Press.) Paris, Dec. 21.—One of the American life insurance companies has paid out about $300,000 on policies held by soldiers who were killed in the war. The last policies issued, which cover the war risks were dated July 25. After that date American policies were so modified as to exclude all risks connected with the war. A captain of artillery who paid his first premium on a $5,000 policy on July 25, was killed in one of the early engagements.

Annuities and claims in case of death from natural causes are being paid promptly by American companies, while others, in accordance with the provisions of the Moratorium are paying no annuities in excess of $240 per year, and no death claims.

There were six German and Austrian life insurance companies doing business in France before the war. They come under the measures taken against Germans doing business in France and their estates deposited with the nation's consignment department will be used for the benefit of policy holders other than those of German and Austrian nationality.

GERMAN WOUNDED ARE CROWDING THE STREETS OF BERLIN.

Berlin, Dec. 20.—(Associated Press Correspondence.)—No fair picture could be drawn of the Berlin of war time that did not include mention of the thousands of wounded in the streets. In motorcars, in wheel chairs and in the crowds on the streets, they are everywhere limping, maimed and swathed in bandages. At one dinner-table in the Hotel Aldon were four officers, every one of whom had his arm in a sling and two of whom had their heads in bandages. One, a captain, had lost his right hand, but he had the iron cross of the first class and he seemed the happiest of the party. Indeed, the cheerfulness of the wounded contrasted strikingly with the sad eyes of the many women in mourning. The toll has done little to weaken the spirit of the populace, but it is beginning to horrify the visitors.

NEWARK MAN GETS MEDAL FOR BRAVERY

HARRY C. BEASLEY AMONG 13 ENLISTED MEN HONORED BY SECY. DANIELS

Aboard Battleship Florida at Brooklyn Navy Yard—Heroes of Vera Cruz Occupation.

(Associated Press Telegram.) New York, Jan. 6.—Thirteen enlisted men of the United States navy who won special mention for distinguished conduct at the occupation of Vera Cruz were presented medals of honor by Secretary Daniels today on the deck of the battleship Florida at the Brooklyn navy yard. Rear Admiral Fletcher, now commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet, who commanded the American naval forces at Vera Cruz and other high officers of the navy participated in the formal ceremony.

The medal winners were: Henry N. Nickerson, boatswain's mate, first class.

Abraham DeSomer, chief turret captain.

Joseph G. Harner, boatswain's mate, first class.

George Cregan, boatswain's mate, first class.

Lawrence C. Sinnett, gunners mate, third class.

Percy A. Decker, chief boatswain's mate.

Charles F. Bishop, quartermaster, first class.

James A. Walsh, quartermaster, third class.

Charles L. Nordsiek, seaman.

Fred J. Schnepel, seaman.

Berrie H. Jarrett, gunners mate, third class.

William Zuiderveld, hospital steward.

Harry C. Beasley, coxswain.

Edward A. Gishburn, electrician, second class, was not present to receive his medal, but had it sent to him.

Secretary Daniels also read a long list carrying names of officers headed by Rear Admiral Fletcher and bluejackets and marines, who had received special mention for heroism and bravery at Vera Cruz.

Before presenting the medals, Secretary Daniels referred to the battle of Vera Cruz and declared that the outstanding naval event of the past year was the courage, sacrifice and self restraint displayed by the officers and men of the navy and marine corps at that time.

"In answering the call of their country," said the secretary, "nineteen men, sailors and marines, won the distinction and glory of death on the field of battle. America then, mourning her loss was like Noah 'all tears'."

The secretary spoke of the honors paid these heroes at the time their bodies were brought to the United States, when President Wilson himself in an address at Brooklyn voiced the nation's appreciation of their valor, and said:

"Today we are gathered to do honor to the men who marched shoulder to shoulder with the immortal nineteen and to give to them proof that this grateful republic knows how to gladden the hearts of its living heroes as well as to bedeck with flowers the graves of those fallen."

In presenting the medals, Secretary Daniels said that they were tokens of a grateful country's appreciation of work nobly done: of duty well performed, of readiness to face danger.

A Sure Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve, and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

LARGE NUMBERS GERMAN NOBLES FELL IN BATTLE

Berlin, Dec. 20.—(Associated Press Correspondence.)—Publication of the Almanac de Gotha for 1915 and the various genealogical annuals which has just taken place here reveals that up to November first 779 members of the German nobility had met death on the battlefield or had succumbed to wounds received in action.

It is shown that of members belonging to the "Graefliche" houses, or families carrying the title of count 74 had fallen or died of wounds by November 1. The "Freiherrliche" or baronial families had lost 209 members through the war, while the very essence of German nobility, the "Uradeligen" families, who trace their ancestors to the year of 1350 or beyond, had lost 246 members in all. The families hit hardest are the Arnims with 8, the Wedels with 8, the Oertzens with 7, and the Deckens with 6 members. But the class of nobility which seems to have suffered most, though it is by no means the most numerous, is that whose members have been knighted by letters-patent, and who are known in Germany as "briefadelige" houses. This class lost 250 members.

The total number of losses through death on the battlefield or as the result of wounds received in action of the German nobility is, therefore, 779, up to November 1.

According to the Almanac de Gotha the following members of German and foreign reigning houses still retain their honorary commands in the armies: Prince Henry of Prussia, colonel Second Russian Hussar Regiment; Grand Duke of Oldenburg, colonel 76th Russian Infantry regiment; German empress, colonel Russian Grade du Corps Hussars; Russian empress, Colonel German Second Guard Dragoon Regiment; Queen Mary of England, colonel German Fifth Hussars; Duchess of Connaught, colonel 64th German Infantry regiment. The large number of honorary commissions held formerly by members of the reigning houses of Europe in foreign armies has thus sunk to six—an infinitesimal fraction of the numbers of other years.

Nerv-Worth Good For a Long Array of Nervous Disorders—Ask Druggist Evans.

This newspaper has contained many strong statements made by local sufferers with indignation to the effect that Nerv-Worth had greatly lessened their stomach troubles. In this connection it is in order to state that Nerv-Worth is also a remarkable remedy for intestinal indigestion. The properties which in Nerv-Worth tone up the nerves of the stomach are quite as effective in restoring to health the abdominal nerves and in exacting a mildly laxative influence upon the bowels. Nerv-Worth, in fact, is a foe to all forms of nervous disorders—to dizziness, trembling, poor circulation, heart palpitation, indigestion, sick or nervous headaches, pains in side, head, back or chest, etc., etc. Ask Druggist T. J. Evans what he thinks it will do for your nervous disorders. He knows. He has sold many hundreds of bottles of it. Guaranteed, $1.00 a bottle.

Redfield's Prescriptions.

Secretary Redfield of the Department of Commerce, sent out a New Year's message to the merchants and manufacturer of this country that may be fairly termed a "prescription for prosperity." Here it is:

If you want prosperity do your share to bring it, and do it now. Get that addition to your shop going: it will cost you less today than six months hence. Is trade a bit dull at the works? Get those improvements begun. Prices are low and likely to rise. You've been thinking of that contract work, better start it before things get the start of you. This country slows down a bit now and then, but it never stops growing.

And the Chicago Herald observes:

"It never stops growing!" That's the vital and glorious fact that too many of us are prone to forget whenever things don't go just right in our immediate environment or our souls are oppressed by some incident of failure and misery close to our eyes or forced upon our attention by some accidental concentration of public attention.

Yet all the while the country keeps on growing, and the child is unborn that will see it even begin to stop growing. All most of us have to do to prosper is to wake up, cast off idle fears and get in line to grow with our country.

Moreover, as there are times to take in sail, so there are times to throw out canvas. This is one of the times, not because the winds are steady, but because new ports beckon for our voyaging.

The "solid men" of twenty years hence will be those who with bold energy take advantage of the chances thrust upon us, at home even more than abroad, by the readjustments made inevitable by the dislocations of a world-wide war.

A Nature Lover.

John Muir, the Sierra nature-lover, who died recently, once remarked: "I have no time to fool away making money. The rich man carries too heavy a pair of blankets." Mr. Muir refused one day an offer of a leading magazine, of $10,000 for a few short letters. When Harvard University gave him an honorary degree, he said he would have thrown the sheepskin into the fire, if his wife would have let him.

These characters that hold so lightly what other men strive and sweat to gain may seem eccentric. Yet they have commonly acquired more of life's real happiness. Also their intimate touch with Nature enables them to see many of the practical facts of life that are hidden from the ordinary man.

Muir's great practical sense has been his work for the preservation of forest reserves and national parks. Thousands of users of water supplies have already profited by his foresight. Whole states will be benefited in future years by the preservation through his efforts of sections of grand scenic value as national parks.

Every region has its nature-lovers, who in their own held accomplish a little of the same results as those achieved by a national figure like Muir. The man who persuades a growing town to set apart some lovely forest tract or pretty open country space as a park or playground is building for the future business prosperity of that community.

The person who sits in the field watching the ways of the birds may seem to his neighbor to be an idler. Yet he may know more of what is destroying the crops of his section than does the farmer. The man who seemingly roams aimless through the woods may know more as to why the streams are drying up than does the one who depends on the water power. Types of men like Muir are advance scouts of civilization, in dealing with the mysterious ways and acts of Mother Nature.

Care of Teeth.

Dentists say that clean teeth do not decay, and dental authorities are agreed that crooked, twisted, deformed and decayed teeth are a source of danger to a child as well as an adult. Therefore, clean the teeth.

Margaret Hudson, who is president of Chicago's Crooked Teeth Society, is making an earnest effort to induce people to observe dental cleanliness, and President Hudson asks the Advocate to spread the gospel of clean teeth.

Don't wait until you have lost your best teeth to look after your mouth. Watch the boy's and the girl's teeth. Disease often comes from decayed teeth. Keep the teeth clean and keep the teeth free from cavities. Consult a good dentist at least once every six months and thus postpone the day indefinitely when you will have to use "store teeth."

Winter Resorts.

The exodus of European travel of recent years has begun very early in the year. Formerly it was largely a summer pilgrimage, but for some time a fleet of great ships has been carrying the tourists to southern Europe beginning as early as January.

This year few pleasure and health-seekers will travel to the Mediterranean. They are looking for a place where they can safely go out of sight of an American consul for a few hours, and where they can get a check cashed without making a special appeal to the American embassy.

Winter resort literature from our own home country is being studied. Every town attractively located for winter life will soon get a stream of visitors that it never knew before. Prosperity will flow out somewhere from this money that used to go abroad.

Ten Billion Farm Year.

(Pittsburg Dispatch.)

That 1914 was a record year for American agriculture is, of course, now an old story, but the actual figures in dollars and cents, just announced by Secretary Houston, present our phenomenal farm production in more impressive and easily understood form.

The total value of American farm products for this year eclipsed all records almost touching the $10,000,000,000 mark. This includes farm crops, farm animal products and farm animals, and is $83,000,000 more than for 1913, the previous record, and more than double the total for 1899. The value of the crops was over $6,000,000,000 and of farm animals and animal products nearly $4,000,000,000. The value of the crops was slightly less than the record owing to the war's effect on cotton, but corn and wheat reached new figures, so that notwithstanding the $300,000,000 shrinkage in cotton the crop aggregate showed a decrease of only $88,000,000. But in animal products there was a general slight increase in production, excepting only in sheep and swine, while in prices there were gains, notably a small increase in the farm price of eggs and a larger increase in the farm price of cattle and calves sold and slaughtered.

Great as this year's record has been with the general preparation to reap the advantages offered by the war abroad, there is every reason to believe that, given favorable weather conditions, next year's total will far exceed it.

Spirit of the Press

French Navy.

France has a very considerable navy, but very little has been heard regarding it during the present war, doubtless because it is principally occupied in keeping the Austrian warships bottled up in the Adriatic. It is a not impossible contingency that if England and Germany both continue to lose vessels at the present rate France will emerge from the rear with a larger navy than either of them.—Philadelphia Record.

Woodrow Wilson in 1916. "One thing is certain," says the New York World. "If Democrats are incapable of giving honest support to a President like Woodrow Wilson, he is the last Democratic president that this political generation is likely to see, and the Democratic party will revert to its former position as a mere party of opposition."

This is the sobering truth which surely ought to bring to their senses those Democrats at Washington and elsewhere who chortle with glee every time some disgruntled Democrat, angered generally because he has not been able to obtain the fat job which he seeks for himself or some constituent, takes a fling at the President. The weakness of the Republican party today is that it has no man of commanding reputation whom it might impress as leader. The strength of the Democrats is Woodrow Wilson. They cannot destroy him without destroying their own hopes of continuing in control of the Government.—Charleston News Courier.

The Babies of New York.

Imagine a real baby parade—one made up of the 149,687 babies born in New York City in 1914, according to Health Commissioner Goldwater's report. Put the baby-carriages twenty in a row, filling Broadway from curb to curb, with eight feet between files. Such a procession would never "pass a given point;" it would be eleven and one-third miles long, from City Hall to Inwood, and the motor power would be unequal to the distance. The number of babies that live the year out would reach more than ten miles.—New York World.

Proposed Neutral Zone.

Now that the Mexican factions have been invited to establish a neutral zone on the border, why not carry the idea a little further and have the European factions establish a fighting zone in which there would be no innocent bystanders, no cathedrals and no cities. An international prize ring, where all war-bitten nations could fight it out without disturbing the rest of the world is one of the prime necessities of modern civilization.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

THE PROPHET.

The weather man says "Snow," and then all people know it will be fine, the sun will shine, and warm up things below.

The weather man says "Fair," and people everywhere their silkies don, put gumboots on, and for a rain prepare. The prophet does his best; he seldom takes a rest; all day he scraps with charts and maps from North and South and West. He toils and never tires; he reads expensive wires from Hindson's Bay and far Cathay, and from the British shires. And still his guess is bunk; his prophecies are bunk; one time in eight he gets it straight, and seven times it's junk. His system's not O. K.; it leads him all astray; 'twere best, perhaps, to burn his maps, and throw his charts away. He ought to study well the groundhog of the dell, which knoweth more of weather lore than human sharps can tell. A goosebone he should get, 'c'en though he goes in debt; for that will show if we'll have snow, or weather dry or wet. Let him observe the wrens, the wise old cackling hens, the toads and frogs, the barnyard hogs, the bullsnares in their dens. And then when he foretells the storm that whoops and yells, the storm will come and freeze us numb, and he'll be wearing bells.

THE AUSTRALIAN WOOL EMBARGO MAY BE LIFTED

(Associated Press Telegram.)
Melbourne, Australia, via London, Jan. 6.—The commonwealth, it is announced, has decided to permit the shipment of Merino wool into the United States provided a guarantee is given that it will not be re-exported. Australian restrictions regarding the export of wool were inaugurated soon after the war started and were in line with the policy pursued by Great Britain in endeavoring to prevent this product from reaching Germany. On Nov. 28 the restrictions on the export of wool, so far as Canada and Japan were concerned were rescinded.

Mrs. Maggie Durbin, 209 Victory St., Little Rock, Ark., writes: "I was troubled for five years with a chronic disease. I tried everything I heard of, but nothing did me any good. Some doctors said my trouble was catarrh of the bowels, and some said consumption of the bowels. One doctor said he could cure me; I took his medicine two months, but it did me no good. A friend of mine advised me to try Peruna and I did so. After I had taken two bottles I found it was helping me, so I continued its use, and it has cured me sound and well. I can recommend Peruna to any one, and if any one wants to know what Peruna did for me if they will write to me I will answer promptly."

SORTIE RESULTS IN ANNIHILATION AUSTRIAN FORCE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Petrograd (via London), Jan. 6.—The Novoe Vremya says, that a recent sortie by the Austrian garrison which is defending Przemyśl, the date of which is not given, resulted in the complete annihilation of the Austrian force. The sortie was preceded by extensive cavalry reconnaissance. Then Austrian infantry advanced in force in the direction of a forest near the city. The Russians opened fire but the Austrians rushed forward and gained the cover of the woods. They continued to push forward and the Russians permitted them to advance close to their positions before making a serious effort to halt them. With the fighting thus at close range the Russians opened up a terrific fire from rifles and machine guns.

It is said that not one of the force which made the sorties escaped either death or capture.

LODGE ATTACKS WILSON'S POLICY AS TO MEXICO

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Jan. 6.—Senator Lodge attacked President Wilson's Mexican policy in the senate today during a review of the urgent deficiency bill. The error of the administration's course, he said, had begun with the refusal to recognize Huerta, on moral grounds rather than on the broader international grounds on which it could have been based.

With the departure of Huerta, Senator Lodge said, the object of the president had been accomplished, but the policy of the United States had not advanced one step.

DECISION

OF SUPREME COURT TO REOPEN CASE PENDING FOR LAST SIX YEARS

Suit Involves Nearly $3,000,000 Life Insurance Surplus for Which Policy Holders Fight.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, Jan. 6.—The question of whether policy holders are entitled to a share of a surplus of nearly $3,000,000 of the Union Central Life Insurance Company of Cincinnati, is the issue in a suit heard by the Supreme court today in which the fight for the policyholders is being made by James G. Bell, of Cleveland, a policyholder.

The state brought suit for this money for the policy holders some six years ago, starting it in the Hamilton county courts. The company won all the way through to the Supreme court. Bell started his suit in the Cuyahoga county courts, winning in the common pleas court, but losing in the circuit court. The supreme court dead-locked, three judges voting to affirm the lower court and three to reverse. The effect of this was to leave the decision of the circuit court, which was against Bell, standing. Bell asked the Supreme court, which now consists of seven members to reopen the case to the common pleas court for trial.

Lawrence Maxwell, former solicitor general of the United States appeared for the company. Alexander H. Martin, William H. Howell and Welles K. Stanley, of Cleveland, represent Bell.

Harry Beasley In Attendance At Presentation

Harry Beasley, one of the Vera Cruz heroes, lives in Maple avenue, this city. He left Newark Monday night at 3:10 o'clock on the Pennsylvania railroad for New York to be present at the presentation on board the Florida today. Mr. Beasley had given up the thought of being present as the government bears no part of the expense and he did not care to expend the money for that purpose. However, through the kindness of ex-Senator William E. Miller, who secured a number of contributions from local business men, the Newark boy was enabled to attend. He felt very grateful to his friends for their interest in him and expects to have a delightful reunion with his old comrades of the Florida.

HOT TEA BREAKS A COLD—TRY THIS

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold, cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieves congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

COCOANUT OIL, FINE FOR WASHING HAIR.

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mislified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, shiny and easy to manage.

You can get mislified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

EDWARD KING IS A VICTIM OF TYPHOID

TIMEKEEPER AND PAYMASTER AT JEWETT CAR WORKS LOSES HEROIC STRUGGLE.

For Five Weeks He Had Been Ill, and Peritonitis Finally Caused His Death Wednesday.

Albert Edward King, 27 years old, a well known and popular young man of this city, died at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday morning at his home in North Second street, after an illness of about five weeks. His death was due to typhoid fever and a complication of diseases. Peritonitis set in a few days ago and an operation was performed at 10 o'clock Tuesday night in an effort to save the young man's life. He rallied after the operation and for a brief time there was hope that the operation might save his life but shortly after midnight, Mr. King began to grow weaker, and the decline continued until death came early Wednesday.

Mr. King was a life long resident of Newark. He was a son of the late William A. King and Catherine (Knight) King. He was born July 22, 1877, in the same house in which he died, though the house at that time was located on the present site of the memorial building.

He attended the public schools, being graduated with the class of 1896. Soon after leaving school he took a position with the Jewett Car company, and by close application to his work he became paymaster and timekeeper at that plant.

In 1905 he was married to Miss Atta Beecher, daughter of Mrs. J. S. Beecher. They were the parents of one child, Elizabeth King, aged 7 years. Besides the widow and the one daughter, Mr. King is survived by his mother, Mrs. Catherine King and two sisters, Mrs. E. B. Merian, of Cleveland, and Miss Florence King at home.

Mr. King was a member of the Second Presbyterian church and was active in the various branches of the church work, being a trustee at the time of his death.

Mr. King was a man whom it was a pleasure to meet, and he was immensely popular in the best social circles of our city in which he mingled. His genial nature was at all times a predominant characteristic, and to this he added a fund of general information, and a mind which thought consecutively and grasped the proportion of problems and events that came into his life. His life was exemplary in its habits. These were built upon the sure foundation of Christian home-training and example from which he never departed.

The deceased was endowed with many qualities of mind, which demonstrated themselves to, and were recognized by those who knew him intimately, as well as those having the pleasure of only a casual acquaintance. Among these might be mentioned an elocutionary and dramatic ability that were known very generally. By these he has frequently given pleasure to a public appearance in amateur entertainments, but his ambition went no further, and never yearned for personal applause and aggrandizement in the professional ranks where he could have made a notable success.

To his home, his church, his friends, he thought he owed the full duty of his manhood, and in these spheres Ned King poured out a "full measure of devotion."

The widow and family are assured of the deepest sympathy of a community in the crushing bereavement that has befallen them—the cutting down in the full activity of manhood of their support and companion.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 o'clock at the home in Second street. Rev. Don Tullis of the Second Presbyterian church officiating. Burial at Cedar Hill cemetery.

OPEN SHOP

WILL BE OFFERED STRIKING MINERS IN EASTERN OHIO FIELD

As the Final Decision of the Operators Which Was Made this Afternoon.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cleveland, Jan. 6.—Eastern Ohio coal operators at a meeting here today decided to open their mines under the "open shop" plan. Striking miners who have been idle since the first of April last, will be given first opportunity to fill the jobs under the scale offered by the operators.

If the miners refuse the offer of the operators it was said that their places in the mines will likely be filled by non-union men who probably will be imported for that purpose.

The operators do not plan to resume operation of their mines under the new plan for ten days or two weeks, it was stated. The plan to operate "open shop" was decided upon this afternoon when a committee of operators selected to formulate plans for future action in the strike zone made this recommendation. The committee's report was ratified and the operators, who have been in session here for nearly three days, adjourned.

According to an agreement reached by the operators notices that the mines in Belmont, Jefferson and Harrison counties will resume, on a date to be selected later, will be posted at practically all the mines in the eastern Ohio field. If the strikers refuse the terms of the operators 44.61 cents a ton, the offer rejected by the miners' union, they will be served with notices to vacate the coal company houses. If they refuse to vacate eviction proceedings will be started.

If the mine workers union follows its intention of fighting eviction through the courts, it was stated that the operators will ask the courts to compel miners to give bonds covering the amount of rent due from miners for houses in the entire field while the litigation is pending. Based on the amount of back rent, operators say this sum would amount to approximately $1,000,000.

Obituary

Mrs. Thomas Bline.
Mary Jane Hand, daughter of John and Magdalene Hand, was born near Chatham, O., July 23, 1841, and passed away Dec. 29, 1914, aged 73 years, 5 months and 6 days. At the age of 15 years she united with the M. E. church at Appleton, and has been faithful to her trust all these years.

"Servants of God well done,
Thy glorious warfare's past;
The battle's fought,
The race is won;
And thou art crowned at last."

On Nov. 5, 1857, she was united in marriage to Orlando Runnels, to this union was born five sons and three daughters, one son and two daughters preceded her to the spirit world.

Her living children are Wesley, Everett, Otta and Stephen Runnels of Johnston, and Mrs. Jennie Simmons of Richmond, O. She was left a widow July 31, 1897.

On Dec. 20, 1899, she was united in marriage to Thomas Bline, besides her children, she leaves to mourn, a devoted husband and four brothers, Titus Hand, of Alexandria, Calvin Hand of Appleton, Alonzo Hand of Oklahoma, Miles Hand of Iowa, thirteen grandchildren, two great grandchildren, five step-daughters, one step-son, and a host of friends and neighbors.

While her loss is irreplaceable it is the consolation of the loving husband and children that nothing was left undone to ease her suffering or add to her comfort. The departed was of a cheerful and hopeful disposition. She spread the sunshine of good cheer by her bright smiling countenance wherever she went. She was a loving wife, a devoted mother and a friend to all who knew her. She will be sadly missed in the home circle and by her acquaintances.

We miss thee from our home, dear mother,
A shadow o'er our life is cast,
We miss the sunshine of thy face,
We miss thy kind and willing hand,
Thy fond and earnest care;
Our homes are dark without thee,
We miss thee everywhere.

Short services were held Thursday morning at the late home by Rev. Mr. Greenawalt. The body was then taken to Liberty church and funeral services conducted by Rev. Mr. Gillilan at 1 p. m. Interment made in the adjoining cemetery by Mr. Emerson.

EAGLES' BANQUET FOLLOWING THE INSTALLATION

The local Aerie of Eagles held a delightful banquet at Fromholtz's Hall in East Main street, Tuesday evening, following an installation of officers by Past President Charles Duerr. The newly-elected officers are as follows:

Past President—Louis Rehbeck.
President—James Fitzgibbon.
Vice President—Morgan Pugh.
Chaplain—Wardner Hibler.
Secretary—Matthew Kneupfer.
Treasurer—Leo Besanency.
Trustee—Henry Loewendick.
Inside Guard—George Fink.
Outside Guard—Sylvester Webb.

After the installation services a march was made to the banquet hall, over 200 being served with a fine turkey banquet, prepared by the Fitzsimmons brothers, and they surely put forth their best efforts, for the feast is said to have been one of the best ever served the local aerie, and they have had many fine affairs of a similar nature. The tables were loaded with other good things in addition to the turkey, the market having been scoured for eatables which are relished by hungry Eagles.

After all had partaken of the enjoyable feast a flow of oratory followed, the first speaker being Alderman Michael Barrie of Columbus. Mr. Barrie is eloquent and one of the firm believers in the order to which he has belonged for years. He gave a descriptive talk that was highly enjoyable and one which went direct to the hearts of his auditors.

Daniel Murphy, the well-known postal employee, was next on the program and made one of the hits of the evening. "Dan" is at home in a fraternal hall at any time or at any place. After a splendid talk on the order and in behalf of his brother members he presented the retiring Worthy President Louis Rehbeck, with a handsome gold watch and chain. Mr. Rehbeck responded in a feeling manner and assured the donors that their kindness would ever be cherished by himself and that he would always remember their pleasant associations in the lodge room and otherwise.

Installing officer, Past Worthy President Charles Duerr, was next called upon, and in a happy vein told of the good that comes to the Eagle who is prompt with his dues and regular in attendance upon meeting nights. His speech was one of the gems for which the worthy past president is noted and was greatly relished by all.

During the evening music was furnished by the Fast Side Quartet, and they rendered a number of the late popular selections. The affair was one of the best ever given by the local Aerie of Eagles, and all present thoroughly enjoyed every minute of the evening.

CONFINED TO ROOM.
Mrs. G. W. Sapp of Union street is confined to her bed suffering with a severe attack of bronchitis.

FIRE

eth and Fifty-ninth street stations. Some of the hundreds of passengers wedged tight in the cars said afterwards that it started with an explosion and that the train came almost immediately to a standstill. Boarding the train there was a frantic rush for the end cars.

Through the open doors at each end there poured a stream of men and women who struggled through the smoke, apparently oblivious of the danger of the third rail, toward the two stations. The platforms at these stations were jammed and in the wild rush for the exits some persons were thrown down and trampled on.

As the work of rescue progressed indications were that the number of fatalities would be larger than first estimated. Emergency calls to hospitals brought to the spot every ambulance in Manhattan. As fast as the unconscious victims were removed from the tube they were laid on the sidewalk, carried to nearby streets, stores and offices and given first aid treatments by squads of firemen and surgeons. So great was the demand upon the fire fighting forces of the city to aid in the work of reviving the unconscious that hurry calls were sent by telephone to Brooklyn for aid from the firemen there.

The transportation tieup resulting from the fire spread to the Bronx and to Brooklyn and tens of thousands of persons struggled at elevated railway and subway stations in those boroughs in an effort to reach Manhattan.

The entire fire department of the city and all ambulances were summoned to the scene.

At 11 o'clock hundreds of half-suffocated passengers were being rescued from subway stations and preparations were being made to dynamite the streets to let air into the tube.

It was not possible at that time to determine the extent of the fatalities and some estimates placed the number of dead far in excess of twenty.

The fire broke out in a subway train which was one of a long line of rush-hour trains held up between the Fifth and Fifty-ninth street stations by an earlier accident in the power-house of the system which tied up the service. There were reports that there had been a collision between two trains, but although some of the panic-stricken passengers referred to a "smash-up," the police had not definitely established such a report.

Unofficial reports gave the cause of the fire as a collision between express trains. At the time of the fire the subway contained smoke from a previous fire extinguished only a few minutes before at the Spring street station.

It was shortly before 9:30 o'clock that wisps of smoke began to curl from the manholes along Broadway, between the two stations. The spot where the fire burned fiercest was opposite Fifty-sixth street. Hampered in their efforts to reach the blaze the firemen dug into the pavement with their axes. They succeeded in making a hole above the subway at Fifty-third street. From this opening belched a volume of smoke and flames as if from a crater. Hose was directed through the opening and even hand-extinguishers were used.

For ten blocks the streets were lined with ambulances that came from all over the city. A cordon thrown around Broadway by the police held in check tens of thousands of spectators.

On his way home last Saturday night, Dr. Beard passed a man on the street near his home. It so happened that the man was standing between the sidewalk and the curb and as Dr. Beard passed, he stepped toward the walk. Thinking the man's actions were suspicious, Dr. Beard turned suddenly with the drawn revolver and "covered" the suspect. He looked around for help but not seeing any one, he discharged the revolver into the air to attract the attention of those living nearby. His effort was successful and several persons came to his assistance.

An officer was called and soon after the policeman's arrival, the man was identified as Mr. Cochran. Knowing the man, the officer refused to place him under arrest and he was released immediately.

Mr. Cochran was able to explain his presence on the street and satisfied Dr. Beard that he had no connection whatever with the events which have transpired about the Beard home during the past month.

Miss Beard, the recipient of the unwelcome attentions, is the younger daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Beard. A year or more ago she was a student in a Washington school.

Dr. Beard was seen by the Advocate Wednesday afternoon and declared that he had nothing to say regarding the suit except that whatever he did in his meeting with Mr. Cochran, was solely for his own protection.

Kenyon Plays Basketball at Granville Friday

Granville, Jan. 6.—Along with the crowds of returning students, yesterday, came members of the Denison basketball quintet, who will see active service for the first time this year next Friday evening. Kenyon will oppose Denison here, and the contest is expected to be worthy of considerable attention.

Coach Livingston worked his team in Swasey gymnasium yesterday for the first time since the holiday vacation was begun. Reese, Thiele, Jones, Roubush, Biggs, Ladd, Smucker are ready to start conditioning for the long list of hard games, which extend from this week till the middle of March.

Last year Denison was surprised by the strength of Kenyon on the hardwood floor. The Gambler team led Livingston's aggregation at the close of the first half and it was not until after the second half was well under way that the score began to creep safely toward the Denison side. No chances will be taken this year, and Coach Livingston has cautioned his men against over-confidence, as last year's example was a warning.

After the installation services a march was made to the banquet hall, over 200 being served with a fine turkey banquet, prepared by the Fitzsimmons brothers, and they surely put forth their best efforts, for the feast is said to have been one of the best ever served the local aerie, and they have had many fine affairs of a similar nature. The tables were loaded with other good things in addition to the turkey, the market having been scoured for eatables which are relished by hungry Eagles.

After all had partaken of the enjoyable feast a flow of oratory followed, the first speaker being Alderman Michael Barrie of Columbus. Mr. Barrie is eloquent and one of the firm believers in the order to which he has belonged for years. He gave a descriptive talk that was highly enjoyable and one which went direct to the hearts of his auditors.

Daniel Murphy, the well-known postal employee, was next on the program and made one of the hits of the evening. "Dan" is at home in a fraternal hall at any time or at any place. After a splendid talk at the order and in behalf of his brother members he presented the retiring Worthy President Louis Rehbeck with a handsome gold watch and chain. Mr. Rehbeck responded in a feeling manner and assured the donors that their kindness would ever be cherished by himself and that he would always remember their pleasant associations in the lodge room and otherwise.

Installing officer, Past Worthy President Charles Duerr, was next called upon, and in a happy vein told of the good that comes to the Eagle who is prompt with his dues and regular in attendance upon meeting nights. His speech was one of the gems for which the worthy past president is noted and was greatly relished by all.

During the evening music was furnished by the East Side Quartet, and they rendered a number of the late popular selections. The affair was one of the best ever given by the local Aerie of Eagles, and all present thoroughly enjoyed every minute of the evening.

eth and Fifty-ninth street stations. Some of the hundreds of passengers wedged tight in the cars said afterwards that it started with an explosion and that the train came almost immediately to a standstill. Aboard the train there was a frantic rush for the open doors at each end where poured a stream of men and women who struggled through the smoke, apparently oblivious of the danger of the third rail, toward the two stations. The platforms at these stations were jammed and in the wild rush for the exits some persons were thrown down and trampled on.

As the work of rescue progressed indications were that the number of fatalities would be larger than first estimated. Emergency calls to hospitals brought to the spot every ambulance in Manhattan. As fast as the unconscious victims were removed from the tube they were laid on the sidewalk, carried to nearby streets, stores and offices and given first aid treatments by squads of firemen and surgeons. So great was the demand upon the fire fighting forces of the city to aid in the work of reviving the unconscious that hurry calls were sent by telephone to Brooklyn for aid from the firemen there.

The transportation tieup resulting from the fire spread to the Bronx and to Brooklyn and tons of thousands of persons struggled at elevated railway and subway stations in those boroughs in an effort to reach Manhattan.

The entire fire department of the city and all ambulances were summoned to the scene.

At 11 o'clock hundreds of half-suffocated passengers were being rescued from subway stations and preparations were being made to dynamite the streets to let air into the tube.

It was not possible at that time to determine the extent of the fatalities and some estimates placed the number of dead far in excess of twenty.

The fire broke out in a subway train which was one of a long line of rush-hour trains held up between the Fifth and Fifty-ninth street stations by an earlier accident in the power-house of the system which tied up the service. There were reports that there had been a collision between two trains, but although some of the panic-stricken passengers referred to a "smash-up," the police had not definitely established such a report.

Unofficial reports gave the cause of the fire as a collision between express trains. At the time of the fire the subway contained smoke from a previous fire extinguished only a few minutes before at the Spring street station.

It was shortly before 9:30 o'clock that wisps of smoke began to curl from the manholes along Broadway, between the two stations. The spot where the fire burned fiercest was opposite Fifty-sixth street. Hampered in their efforts to reach the blaze the firemen dug into the pavement with their axes. They succeeded in making a hole above the subway at Fifty-third street. From this opening belched a volume of smoke and flames as if from a crater. Hose was directed through the opening and even hand-extinguishers were used.

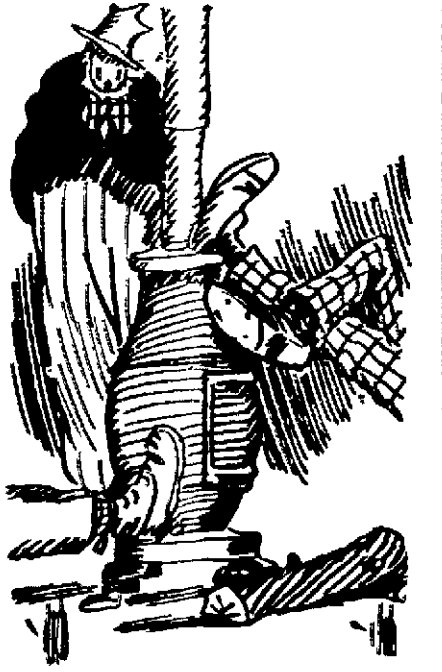

For ten blocks the streets were lined with ambulances that came from all over the city. A cordon thrown around Dr. Way by the police held in check tens of thousands of spectators.

Kenyon Plays Basketball at Granville Friday

Granville, Jan. 6.—Along with the crowds of returning students, yesterday, came members of the Denison basketball quintet, who will see active service for the first time this year next Friday evening. Kenyon will oppose Denison here, and the contest is expected to be worthy of considerable attention.

Coach Livingston worked his team in Swasey gymnasium yesterday for the first time since the holiday vacation was begun. Reese, Thiele, Jones, Roubush, Biggs, Ladd, Smucker are ready to start conditioning for the long list of hard games, which extend from this week till the middle of March.

Last year Denison was surprised by the strength of Kenyon on the hardwood floor. The Gambler team led Livingston's aggregation at the close of the first half and it was not until after the second half was well under way that the score began to creep safely toward the Denison side. To chances will be taken this year, and Coach Livingston has cautioned the men against over-confidence, using last year's example as a warning.

naturally much alarmed. Miss Beard never left the home without protection, and Dr. Beard himself was armed.

On his way home last Saturday night, Dr. Beard passed a man on the street near his home. It so happened that the man was standing between the sidewalk and the curb and as Dr. Beard passed, he stepped toward the walk. Thinking the man's actions were suspicious, Dr. Beard turned suddenly with the drawn revolver and "covered" the suspect. He looked around for help but not seeing any one, he discharged the revolver into the air to attract the attention of those living nearby. His effort was successful and several persons came to his assistance.

An officer was called and soon after the policeman's arrival, the man was identified as Mr. Cochran. Knowing the man, the officer refused to place him under arrest and he was released immediately.

Mr. Cochran was able to explain his presence on the street and satisfied Dr. Beard that he had no connection whatever with the events which have transpired about the Beard home during the past month.

Miss Beard, the recipient of the unwelcome attentions, is the younger daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Beard. A year or more ago she was a student in a Washington school.

Dr. Beard was seen by the Advocate Wednesday afternoon and declared that he had nothing to say regarding the suit except that whatever he did in his meeting with Mr. Cochran, was solely for his own protection.

Big Poultry Show

Tuesday; 30
Occupy Uni

The annual show of the Newark Poultry Association opened Tuesday in Company G Armory in East Main street, more than 200 blooded fowls being on exhibition. Besides the pure-bred poultry there are 25 or 30 animals entered in the pet-stock class, including several breeds of hares, new to this community.

The membership of the association makes an appeal to the Newark and Licking county people for loyal support of the enterprise which is strictly a community enterprise. No one person has any selfish motive in giving the show. It's not for the exploitation of any one fancier, or set of fanciers. The membership of the association wants every poultry-raiser in Licking county to reap whatever benefits that may be derived from such an exhibition.

The attendance, Tuesday afternoon and evening, was gratifying to those in charge. And those who found time to spend an hour or two inspecting the hundreds of birds on exhibition felt well repaid for their trouble.

The exhibit includes a number of varieties of chickens new to breeders in this section. There is a pen of Lockenveldeers, a beautifully marked black and white chicken; several pens of Golden Campines, a pen of Buttercup Sicilians, a variety of poultry whose combs form a cup-shaped topknot.

Then there is the Yokohomas, a Japanese bird. The male bird's tail in the native country attains a length of 6 to 8 feet, and this makes it necessary for him to spend most of his time on a perch. In this country it has been impossible to produce tails of such great length, but they have been known to reach a growth of 4 or 5 feet.

There are numerous pens of bantams, two of the more common varieties, Silver Seabright and Light Brahma. A new variety to Newark fanciers is the Japanese Black Tail. There is on exhibition a pair of Mongolian pheasants, a pen of ringneck doves, and other interesting birds.

The exhibit of hares is the largest

AUTOMATIC SPRINKLER IS SET OFF

When Heat Under Candy Kettle
Raises Temperature of Room

The efficiency of the automatic sprinkler system for fire protection was indicated Wednesday morning when one of the sprinkler "heads" in the Arcade system was opened by the heat which came from the fire under a kettle of boiling candy in the basement of the Busy Bee confectionary store in the Arcade.

The sprinkler "heads" are so constructed that a temperature of 160 degrees will melt a soft metal fuse, which opens the vent at this particular head, allowing a half-inch stream of water to be turned loose in the room.

When the heat under the candy kettle reached 160 degrees there was a deluge of water which soaked everything in the room. The batch of candy was ruined.

The automatic alarm connected with the sprinkler system, set off the annunciator in fire headquarters and Fire Chief Baisch and Fireman Roe made an investigation, finding the deluge in the basement of the candy kitchen. The water supply to that section of the system was shut off while a new sprinkler head was put into place.

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS IN LEGISLATURE

PLAN CAUCUS TO DETERMINE PARTY'S ATTITUDE TOWARD PROPOSED LAWS

That Republicans Will Attempt to Pass — Awaiting Receipt of Gov.-Elect Willis' Message.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Columbus, Jan. 6.—Democratic minority leaders in the house and senate today planned to call a caucus of their party followers early next week to determine what attitude should be taken toward proposed republican legislation. They expect to discuss general plans of the Republican party after the receipt of Governor-elect Willis' message probably next Tuesday.

Minority leaders today declared that despite the governor-elect's announced intention of maintaining separation of the legislative and administrative functions of the state government, they expect his recommendations to be followed and his opinion sought on most legislative propositions. For this reason they look to his message as a fair indicator of the Republican legislative program.

The House met at 9 o'clock this morning to resume balloting for stenographers, pages, porters and attendants, under the title of "assistant clerks" or "assistant sergeants at arms." This was to evade the civil service law requirement that appointive employees of the legislature shall belong to the classified civil service and shall be appointed from eligible lists. By choosing such employees under other titles, they may be elected and are not subject to civil service rules.

House leaders planned for that body to adjourn about noon until next Monday. The Senate adjourned yesterday until that time after electing its employees by the same method used in the house. Eighty-one employees were to be chosen in this way, 49 in the house and 32 in the Senate.

According to minority leaders, the Democrats will co-operate with the Republican majority "in reasonable amendment" of any important laws passed during the last two years.

"I do not think the Democrats will jockey with any measure for the sole purpose of embarrassing the Republicans," said Minority Leader Kramer. "I do not expect the Republicans to propose any amendment measure which will call for strenuous opposition from this side of the house."

Minority leaders said they did not anticipate material change in the present organization of the agricultural commission. Proposed plans for reorganizing a number of state departments under emergency legislation, so that Republicans may be appointed to positions now held by Democrats, will be fought by the minority.

The house adjourned before noon until 10 o'clock Monday morning. Most members left for home late today. The Democratic side of the house was nearly deserted today, members thinking it unnecessary to remain and vote in a preliminary way for Republican employees.

The silk industry of Ohio is particularly affected by the war, exports having virtually ceased.

Granville

(Special to The Advocate)
Granville, Jan. 6.—Mrs. E. P. Cook has returned from Pataskala, where she was called by telegram on New Year's Day by the death of her aunt, Mrs. Edward Eggleston of that place. Mrs. Eggleston, who had been in her usual health, died in her chair while reading the paper on Thursday evening. She had made a home for her brother, Mr. Frank Angevine, who with another brother, Mr. Edwin Angevine of Pataskala, Mrs. Cook's father, are the only near relatives who survive.

There have been numerous inquiries for the present address of Mrs. E. S. Sheppardson, at one time lady principal of the old Y. L. 1. in Granville, which has become Sheppardson College. Since leaving the seaside resort where she spent the summer with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Thorne of Norfolk, Va., she has located in the home of the latter at No. 252 40th street, Norfolk, Va., where she is engaged in her customary activities.

A poem from the pen of O. C. Hooper on the editorial staff of the Columbus Dispatch, commemorating the one hundredth birthday of Mrs. Lorrinda Ballou Wartonsbee will appear in the pages of the Granville Times tomorrow. Mr. Hooper having belonged to the Wartonsbee "family" of Denison students during his course here. In fact that enterprising newspaper will be given over largely to these tributes of love and respect.

Miss Lilybell Setton of Sheppardson college has enjoyed a week's visit at the home of Miss Bess Hagemeier in Merion O.

Miss Leila C. Brown, the talented organist of Sheppardson Conservatory, has returned from Portsmouth, O., where she gave an organ recital before an exclusive and most appreciative audience of society people.

Mr. Burton Case and family motored to Columbus yesterday, where they spent the day with friends.

Mrs. C. L. Williams is spending a few days at the home of Miss Elizabeth Morris in Columbus, O.

Several automobiles conveyed a party of Granville people to Columbus for the Alma Gluck concert in Memorial Hall last night.

Mrs. Ella May Smith, president of the Women's Music club of Columbus is expected in Granville where she will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Howard Darrow, and will be guest of the Granville Woman's Music club Thursday afternoon.

Readers' View Point

The Advocate assumes no responsibility for the opinions expressed in the column headed "Readers' View-point." These communications should be upon subjects in which there is general interest and they must be free from abuse or extravagant statements that tend to provoke controversy.

Proposed Bond Issue.

Editor Advocate:
Sir—As a citizen and taxpayer I want to commend the stand taken by Councilmen Rexroth, Adams, and their associates on the proposition to issue bonds in the sum of $30,000 for the erection of an electric light plant. It seems to me that a councilman doing his duty for the public should use that same degree of business sense and honest sense that an individual does in the transaction of his own business. It is inconceivable that any man understanding business matters would desire to invest $30,000 of his own money in any enterprise unless he gave that enterprise thorough and exhaustive investigation.

I feel certain that the stand taken by Messrs. Rexroth, Adams, and their associates will meet with the hearty approval of the business men and taxpayers of this city, and I do hope that these gentlemen will see to it that before $30,000 of the taxpayers' money of this city is put into any proposition, that a thorough and exhaustive investigation of the proposition is made. Vox Populi.

CRITICISES ANCESTOR OF PLAINTIFF IN SUIT FILED IN COLUMBUS

Columbus, Jan. 6.—Wesley C. Bates, Columbus attorney, sued all the judges and magistrates in Columbus as well as a number of lawyers and witnesses, asking for $100,000 for defamation of character when he was convicted of criminal libel and refused a new trial.

Replying to the suit Mr. Bates, attorney, against himself and others, including judges and lawyers, John B. Whitehawk, Indian, railroad detective, says he doesn't believe Bates could have been damaged in the sum of $100,000 under any circumstances.

Continuing he says:
"The plaintiff alleges that he is a son of the American Revolution as a direct descendant of Nicholas Bates, a soldier of the revolutionary war. I never have heard of Nicholas Bates before, but if he is the author of plaintiff's being, I feel disposed to severely criticize that old soldier's work."

"The detective gives his own history, in which he says he is a descendant of a line of chieftains of the Sioux Indians."

THIEF GETS AWAY WITH AUTOMOBILE

A Ford automobile owned by A. V. Leak, East Newark grocer, was stolen some time Tuesday night while the owner was attending a meeting of the Retail Grocers and Meat Dealers' association in the Woodmen hall in South Park Place. Mr. Leak left the machine standing at the curb in front of the hall and when he returned the machine was gone. It was immediately reported to the police department and though a thorough search was made for the machine it was not located. It bore state license number 100,575.

KEEP URIC ACID OUT OF JOINTS

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Eat
Less Meat and Take Salts.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly; keep the feet dry; avoid exposure; eat less meat, but drink plenty of good water.

Rheumatism is a direct result of eating too much meat and other rich foods that produce uric acid which is absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate the uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which helps overcome uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.
